

RedberyNews: A Mini-Newsletter From Redbery Books

Greetings!

To give you more time to enjoy Shelf Awareness for Readers, this is a mini-newsletter with just enough detail to keep you up to date with what's happening at Redbery Books this month. First, the boss is away, so the rest of us are having all sorts of fun putting items on sale in the store. Hurry back, Bev! Second, Katie is back after a fun-filled summer at home with her kids. Here are a couple of photos from Redbery Storytime at the Cable Community Farm. It was a lovely day for reading about green beans and tractors!

Author Events

The second weekend in September is when the Chequamegon Fat Tire Festival is held in Cable. It's the largest mountain bike race in all of North America! So, to celebrate, we have two "Adventure Authors" coming to Redbery Books.

Julie Buckles
Paddling to Winter
Saturday, September 14, 2013
5:00 - 6:30 p.m.

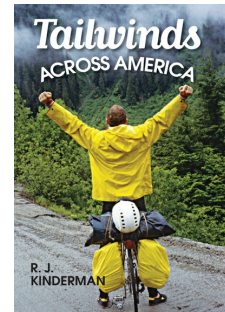

This is the story of Julie's honeymoon, spent in a homemade canoe, paddling with her new husband from their home on Lake Superior to the wilds of the Canadian North.

R.J. Kinderman
Tailwinds Across America
Saturday, September 14, 2013
5:30 - 7:00 p.m.

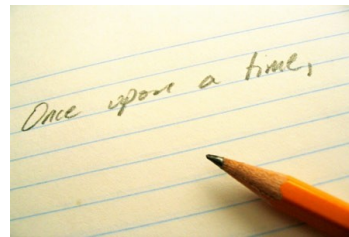

R.J. chronicles the journey he and his future wife took in 1981 from Vancouver, British Columbia, across the U.S., to the coast of Maine with little money, two bicycles, and 2 ½ months to ride 3,725 miles.

Both authors call northwestern Wisconsin home and have many stories to share about their paddling and cycling adventures. They will be reading from their books and signing copies. These books make great gifts, especially when personalized!

Read Local

Please join us in welcoming the following local authors to the Redbery Writers Market:

Rob Bignell, Headin' To The Cabin
Jim Brakken, Thor Loken and the Death of Chief Namakagon
Julie Buckles, Paddling to Winter
John Leighton, Paradise View: Collected Poems
Anne Miller, Mashkiki Rapids
Ros Nelson, Cow in the Road, Bear in the House
Cheri Olsen, Surviving the Teen Driving Years
David Tindell, The White Vixen

Sunday, September 29, 2013
1:00 - 3:00 pm

Authors will each have their own table to sell and sign their books. Authors will also be invited to read excerpts from their latest book, with readings every fifteen minutes.

Door prizes and sales throughout the store!

Come and help us support and celebrate our local writers!

Shelf Awareness for Readers

Shelf Awareness for Readers is a newsletter that includes reviews of 25 of the best books launching during the week, insider information about the book business and other features for avid readers. It will now automatically arrive in your inbox each Tuesday and Friday morning. We think you'll love it! Too much email? When Shelf Awareness for Readers shows up in your inbox just hit the unsubscribe link at the bottom to opt out. Don't worry, you'll continue to receive newsletters from Redbery Books.

Thanks for reading our mini-newsletter! Look for the full edition of Redbery Reads next month!

Sincerely,
