Greetings!

Mid-summer is that kick back time when you just want to get outside and stay out. Naturally, we're hoping that includes sitting on the pontoon with a good book, or reading ghost stories to the kids by an evening campfire..

We're reminded that open access to books and the freedom to read what we choose is a precious right. Stop by and see us on your way to the lake.

Celebrate reading!

And thanks for shopping your local independent book store.

COMING JULY 14

Go Set A Watchman

by Harper Lee

Author of To Kill a Mockingbird

The book to read is not the one that thinks for you but the one which makes you think.

Harper Lee

Great Books For Kids Who Love Critters

Redbery has lots of books to captivate the young science lover. Here are just two.

A Chicken Followed Me Home!

Questions and Answers About A Familiar Fowl
By Robin Page

Explore different chicken breeds, learn about coops, hatching and more in this playful and fact-filled non-fiction picture book. It shines a new light on a familiar fowl.

I, FLY

The Buzz About Flies and How Awesome They Are

by Bridget Hoos

OK, they're pretty disgusting, especially as they circle your potato salad. But did you know that flies flap their wings 200 times per minute as compared to a butterfly's measly 5-12 times? That the average fly has 500 siblings? This book has lots of interesting and gross stuff that kids will love.

All of the excitement and lead up to the release of this book prompted us to make space on the shelves for Harper Lee's eagerly awaited novel. But don't wait too long to pick up a copy, it's going to be a hot seller here, and around the globe. If you pre-ordered a copy, don't forget to pick yours up on or after July 14th.

How to Discourage Your Kids From Reading...

Not Reading Yourself.

Your kids are watching your every move. Plus, they copy you. So they need to see you reading regularly.

The experts say this is good modeling. We say it's just doing the best for your kids - and for yourself.

- 1/2 cup golden raisins
- 1 tsp ground cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp cayenne pepper
- 2 T honey
- 1 T soy sauce
- 1 cup cooked wild rice
- 1 cup cooked long grain white rice

Heat oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat. Saute onion in hot oil until just translucent, 5-7 minutes. Add garlic and saute until fragrant, about a minute. Mix rhubarb into onion and garlic and saute until softened a bit, about 2 minutes more. Stir wine, raisins, cinnamon and cayenne pepper into rhubarb mixture; cover skillet with a lid, reduce heat to medium low and simmer until rhubarb is tender to the bite but still firm, 5-8 minutes. Add honey and soy sauce; stir. Mix wild rice and white rice into the rhubarb mixture; cook and stir until rice is heated through. Top with toasted almonds.

Serves about 6.

Redbery Books

Dear Redbery friends,

I want to extend a huge thank you to all of the wonderful Redbery customers who have stopped by the store to say "hi" and welcome me into the community. It's been a very heartwarming two weeks, and I look forward to getting to know each of you. For those of you who I've missed, thank you for your notes of welcome. Generally you'll find me in the store all day on Mondays and most afternoons and evenings the rest of the week. I've had a lifelong passion for books and reading, and my goal is to help every person who steps into Redbery find their next favorite book. Thank you for supporting Redbery. And stay tuned for the next exciting chapter....

Sincerely and with gratitude,

Maureen and the rest of the staff
